NATIONAL YOUTH LEADERSHIP TRAINING

Buckskin NYLT models a month in the life of a troop – three meetings all leading up to a big outdoor experience (an overnight out-post camp).

The course uses the patrol method. Patrols are challenged early in the week to present to the troop their "Quest for the Meaning of Leadership." While the challenge is designed to have them go through the four stages of team development, it will help patrols and individual Scouts internalize the leadership skills and concepts being presented to them. The focus of each learning session is not only knowledge but giving the youth a "Toolbox of Skills" that equips them with the "how." The course begins with the patrols finding their team vision and ends with the individuals refining a personal vision of how to take the skills back to their home troop and communicate what he has learned.

Training continues upon leaving the course. A Scout has the option of working on goals with his Scoutmaster and upon completion is awarded a pin and certificate at a special graduation ceremony.
